WEATHER FORECAST.—Thursday, fair.

Tailored Suits $8.50 to $18.50.

THEY'RE $12.50 TO $25.00 VALUES.

A business man looking through the building yesterday (but with no axe to grind), said "you sell things very close in this store."

In no department is this statement truer, right now, than in tailored suits. We have enough assortment of them to make it possible for every body to be fitted in any size at any price—if not in one style, then in some other.

Quality, style and finish of the best in these garments. Cheviots Venetians and mixtures.

The $1.00 Waist Sale a Big Success.

Our present sale of Oxford and Pique Shirt Waists for $1.00 each, worth three and four dollars, has been an unqualified success from the start, because people have found the values exactly what they are represented to be—in fact, one woman said we were understating the worth of some of the garments.

The sizes in several styles are broken, so great has been the demand.

Some of the best styles, however, are still here in all sizes, but we'd suggest you come in to-day to make sure of getting them.

VIRGINIA DAY AT HAMPTON

Governor Montague and Other Distinguished Visitors Will Deliver Addresses.

The anniversary exercise of Hampton Institute will be held on April 20th and 21st.

The first will be observed as Virginia Day, when a special train will be run from Richmond that will carry a large party of Virginians, including Governor Montague, Hon. A. C. Braxton, of Staunton; Dr. Kent, of the University; members of the Virginia Co-operative Education Commission and other prominent educators. This party will be met at Hampton by a delegation from the North en route to the Southern Educational Conference to be held at Birmingham, Alabama.

Among those who will make addresses, either on the 20th or 21st, are Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts; Rev. Dr. Hyde, president of Bowdoin College; Dr. Talcott Williams, of Philadelphia; Governor Montague, Hon. A. C. Braxton, Dr. Kent and others.

OLD AND FRAIL.

But Veteran Missionary Returns to His Work in Italy.

The return to Italy of the Rev. Dr. George B. Taylor, the venerable Baptist missionary of Hollis, Va., is fraught with very great interest. In the Religious Herald of this week Dr. Taylor speaks feelingly of the work. He expected to sail on April 24 in the steamer "Princess Irene," of the North German Lloyd Line. He was accompanied by his two daughters. He says: "But now I am off for Italy, old and frail, and at frequent intervals subject to intense pain, yet not without a certain strength of fibre, and fully prepared to do what I can as a teacher in our school and otherwise with tongue and pen for the cause of Him who died in our stead."

MR. AINSLIE URGED.

His Friends Will Press His Claims for City Attorney.

When the new Council meets in July there will be many matters of interest, but none that is of greater public interest than the selection of officers to preside by that body. One of the most desirable and important of these is the position of city attorney, now filled by Hon. Henry R. Pollard. Among those who, it is understood, will aspire to the position is Mr. George Ainslie, one of the ablest of the younger members of the bar, and now a member of the Board of Police Commissioners. While Mr. Ainslie has made no public announcement of his candidacy, his friends are aware of it, and are hopeful of his election. Mr. Pollard will, it is believed, be a candidate for re-election to the position.

THE SALOONS RULED OUT

A Decision Which Is Expected to Have a Radical Effect on Liquor Traffic.

FINCH'S CHECK TO HAND

Five Applicants in North Carolina for Two Cecil Rhodes Scholarships.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., April 13.—The Supreme Court handed down an opinion to-day reversing the lower court in the cases of A. L. Barnes and others against the commissioners of Wilson county, in which it was sought to have a mandamus issue compelling the commissioners to issue license to plaintiffs to run saloons at Black Creek, where town authorities had granted them license.

The lower court allowed the mandamus, but the Supreme Court says this was an error; that commissioners have a discretionary power, and if they decide that the license shall not issue, there is an end of the matter, no matter whether good character and proper location for the saloon are shown or not.

Black Creek had voted for saloons under the Watts law, and issued license, but Wilson county commissioners declined, and so forced the saloons out of the place. This new ruling of the Supreme Court is expected to have a radical effect on the saloon question the State over.

Yesterday Ed. Chambers Smith received a cashier's check for $2,500, balance on the note for $5,000 given by Captain K. S. Finch for the fifty shares of Atlantic and North Carolina stock that Finch purchased at par from Smith in order to qualify himself as a stockholder in the road to sue for the appointment of Captain McBoe as receiver, resulting in the sensational suit recently quashed. The transfer of the stock on the books of the company was made yesterday. The market value of Atlantic and North Carolina stock now is about $50.

The investigations of the special committee and the board of internal improvements into the condition of the Atlantic and North Carolina are being conducted secretly; that is, the committee and the board have refused to admit any news paper man to the hearings that are being held daily now along the line, and orders have been made that no statement be given until the final report to Governor Aycock is made after the investigation is completed.

President E. P. Venable and Professor J. E. Latta, of the State University, are here to-day holding the examinations of contestants for the Cecil Rhodes scholarship in Oxford University, England. The examinations will continue through to-morrow.

North Carolina is entitled to two scholarships, worth $1,500 each. There are five applicants.

NEW DORMITORY. The trustees of the Baptist Female University in annual session last night inspected and approved the plans for the new dormitory building, and work is to begin now with the least possible delay. It will provide room for one hundred additional girls. The trustees found the institution in a most gratifying condition.

ROBINSON—ARCHER.

Elegant Wedding in Presbyterian Church at Chapel Hill.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHAPEL HILL, N. C., April 12.—The marriage of Mr. Edward Trent Robinson, of Richmond, Va., and Miss Caroline Gray Archer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Archer, of Chapel Hill, was celebrated at 8 o'clock last night in the Presbyterian Church here.

The maid of honor was Miss Nellie Archer, a sister of the bride, and the groom's best man was Mr. George Mayo, of Richmond, Va. The other bridesmaids were Miss Randolph Archer, a sister of the bride; Miss Percy Wilkins, of Fredericksburg, Va.; and Miss Anna Robinson, of Richmond, Va., a sister of the groom.

A common cold appeared on the calf of my right limb. I used the simple home remedies but the place refused to heal. The physician I consulted told me to go to a solid extra from calf to ankle, and I then began S. S. S. and I improved rapidly, but an attack of typhoid fever followed in the original sore, causing a backache, began again as soon as I was over the fever, and was completely and permanently cured.

New Castle, Pa. MRS. K. A. DUFFY, 214 Washington St.

When the blood is in bad condition a bruise, cut, scratch, or any slight injury to the flesh, is apt to become an ugly-looking sore or ulcer. Sometimes a boil, blister or pimple is the beginning of a large eating ulcer or open, discharging sore. Often the blood is naturally bad, and is that way from birth, and such people suffer with various kinds of sores from infancy through old age. The blood may become so weak and watery from the effects of malarial sickness, debility or some old chronic trouble, that the impurities break out in bad sores on the lower extremities or other part of the body. There is always some morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood that keeps the sore discharging, and must be gotten out before it will heal. Washes and salves, while cleansing, soothing and helpful, will not do it, because they do not reach the poisoned blood; but S. S. S. cleanses and purifies the diseased blood, and when this is accomplished the place heals. Where the health has been impaired it restores strength and vigor to the system, improves the appetite and digestion, and tones up the nerves. Purifying the blood is the surest way to get rid of an old sore or ulcer. Medical advice is free.

REPAIRING AND REPAINTING.

R. H. BOSHER'S SONS,

15 South Ninth Street, RICHMOND, VA.

Most people eat too heartily of a good many things just because they enjoy them.

It's a big satisfaction to me that greatly as people like "FORCE" they can't eat too much of it.

Sunny Jim

The groomsmen were Mr. Will Harrison, of Greensboro, N. C.; Mr. Frederick Archer, of Chapel Hill; and Mr. William S. Bernard, of Chapel Hill. The ushers were Messrs. Albert Cox, William Gordon Marshall Staton and J. R. Rountree.

White and green were used exclusively in the decorations. Palm and other green plants were banded as a background, while candles were used with artistic effect.

The bride entered with her father, while the bridegroom followed. The bride wore a white robe of rare lace, over chiffon and tulle, with a veil fastened with a ph of diamonds and pearls. The gift of the groom, a diamond ring, was a shower bouquet of Kaiserin Augusta Victoria roses.

The bridesmaids wore white silk null dresses in 1820 style and carried, with the exception of the maid of honor, Marcella Niel roses. The maid of honor's flowers were pink carnations and asparagus fern.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. T. Moss, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here. During the ceremony Schubert's Serenade was beautifully rendered by Mrs. A. S. Wheeler. The bride's party retired to the music of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, also rendered by Mrs. Wheeler.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was given the bride's party at the home of the bride's parents. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Robinson were driven to Durham, where they took the train for Richmond, Va., their future home.

GREENSBORO NOTES.

Manager Gentry Going Over the Telephone Situation.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) GREENSBORO, N. C., April 12.—General manager of the Bell Telephone Company, W. T. Gentry, who has just returned from his European trip, arrived here this morning from headquarters at Atlanta, and will go over the telephone situation here with the Citizens' Committee to-night. It is generally believed here, that unless Manager Gentry calls in the circulars issued some time ago, announcing an increase of rates after April 1st, and which has been suspended, awaiting his coming, there will be an independent users' exchange established at once.

The Trinity College Glee Club will give a concert in the Grand Opera House here on the night of April 22d for the benefit of Greensboro Female College rebuilding fund.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY CIRCLE HAS ANNUAL MEETING TO-DAY.

The annual meeting of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Circle will be held at the Second Church this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Reports of the year's work will be submitted, officers will be chosen and plans for the coming year will be discussed. The session will be an interesting one and a large attendance is expected.

Smallpox Over. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) HENDERSON, N. C., April 13.—The smallpox scare in this community is all over. At one time the pest-house contained forty-one patients. None, however, proved fatal. Nearly all are now discharged.

CHARGED WITH ROBBERING A MAN.

Janie Rock and Jack the Butcher Under Arrest as Alleged Criminals.

In a cell at the First Police Station all day yesterday and last night Aleck Smith, better known as "Jack, the Butcher," howled and swore. He tore everything tearable in the cell to pieces, and it took six policemen to handle him. Then he looked like "Jack, the Butcher," instead of "Jack, the Butcher."

He is under arrest on the charge of being a suspicious character, and is believed to have aided and abetted in the robbery of C. A. Chapman, in a house on Franklin Street some time during Tuesday night.

Chapman spent the night at the house. He was his companion Janie Rock, a woman, once beautiful, but now a wreck. He had $2 in his pocket. When he left the house yesterday morning he reported to the police that he had nothing, and he charged Smith and the Rock woman with having robbed him.

Both were arrested and carried to the First Station. They both deny that they robbed the man, and claim they can prove their innocence in the Police Court this morning.

FARRAR IS ELECTED

Well Known Ex-Judge of Amelia Chosen Superintendent of Schools.

BOOK SELECTIONS MADE

Board of Education Completes List for Grammar and Primary Grades.

The State Board of Education met yesterday at the Library building and elected ex-Judge S. J. Farrar superintendent of schools for Amelia county, and completed the selection of books for the multiple list by choosing several for use in the primary and grammar schools.

There were present at the meeting all the eight members of the board, save Mr. E. C. Glass, of Lynchburg, who was unable to be present. There were eight applicants for the vacant Amelia superintendency, one of them, Dr. Cheatham, a member of the board of supervisors, being strongly endorsed and favored by Dr. J. W. Southall, State Superintendent and a member of the State Board. Judge Farrar had endorsed Dr. Cheatham, and had written a letter declining the use of his name in connection with the position.

It was discovered that Dr. Cheatham superintended the position of county superintendent under a statute recently enacted. The act of March 11, 1904, section 1437, of the Code, specifically forbids the election of a member of the board of supervisors to the office of county superintendent. This statute put Dr. Cheatham out of it, and it was then that the board, with practical unanimity, agreed upon Judge Farrar, a young man admirably qualified for the position.

The board then completed the list of books for use in the public schools in the grammar and primary grades by selecting the following:

Magill's Stories from Virginia History, published by the J. P. Bell Company, Lynchburg, Va.; Chandler's Makers of Virginia History, by Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, of Richmond College, published by Silver, Burdett and Ginn, New York. Two text-books on civil government were selected. They are: Smith's Civil Government of Virginia and Fox's Civil Government of Virginia.

The committee on the list, the greater portion of which was selected some time ago.

The local text-book committees of the following counties will select their textbooks from the multiple list between 15th and the 23d of April: King George, Westmoreland, Northumberland, Richmond, Lancaster, Caroline, King William, King and Queen, Essex, Middlesex, Gloucester, Mathews, James City, New Kent, York, Chesterfield, Henric, Stafford, Chesterfield, Goodland, Powhatan and the cities of Williamsburg, Manchester and Richmond.

Another division of counties and cities will select books between April 23th and April 30th, inclusive.

WILL EXHIBIT THE BURR PAPERS

The United States Department of Justice, through Cecil Hay, has made application to the United States Circuit and District Courts for the use of the original papers in the trial of Aaron Burr and his associate, Blennerhassett, in the celebrated case in which they were tried for treason in this court in 1807. Mr. Robert V. Ludow, of the Department of Justice, Washington, is in the city for the purpose of securing the papers, and only awaits an order of court, which has been prepared and will be signed to-day, authorizing their transfer. The papers will be made a part of a historical exhibit by the government at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in the city of St. Louis.

Among these valuable documents in the custody of the court is the original bench warrant on which Burr was arrested, and which was drawn and signed by Chief Justice John Marshall. There are many interesting documents in this collection, and still others in the early history of the Federal court. One of the others is the record of the appointment and qualification and the proceedings of the court under what is known as the "midnight court," consisting of a chief justice and three judges of the United States Circuit Court for the Fourth Circuit, embracing the States of Virginia and Maryland. The name given to the court is attributable to their appointment by President John Adams at midnight on the eve of the expiration of his term, and when he was about to relinquish the office to Thomas Jefferson.

MADISON STREET WILL NOW STAND

Virginians Have Hard Fight to Preserve Name of President as Designation of Street.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.—A number of Virginians who have removed to Washington to live have had a hard fight this year to preserve the name of President James Madison as the designation of one of the streets of the Federal capital. A tremendous effort has been made to change the name of Madison Street to Samson, and it appeared at one time as if it would be successful, but it is believed that the Virginians have about succeeded in preventing the name of the teacher supplanting that of the Father of the Constitution.

It seems that a grandson of Dr. Samson, who was at one time president of Columbian University, in this city, recently conceived the idea of perpetuating the memory of his ancestor by having his name attached to a Washington street, and he had Senator Gallinger, chairman of the Committee on the District of Columbia, introduce a bill changing the name of Madison Street to Samson Street. This street is for several blocks at present called Samson, and for the rest of the way between Fourth and Eighteenth, it is called Madison Street. The portion of the street called after the President of the United States is one of the aristocratic localities of the city, but the rest of it is resided on chiefly by negroes.

There was intense opposition to the bill from the first, but as Dr. Samson was a native of New Hampshire, the State from which Senator Gallinger comes, it was hard to kill the measure. But it is believed now that it is dead, though it is not certain that the name of the thoroughfare will not be changed to Church Street, because there are two churches on it—not a very good reason for a change of cognomen, but the descendant of the teacher has to be pacified.

The Virginians are filled with admiration of young Samson, for it is not every day that one meets a grandson who thinks his grandfather a greater man than a President of the United States.

STARVING MAN DIES ON NEW YORK STREET

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NEW YORK, April 13.—A poorly dressed man, whose name is believed to be Dennis Kiley, died of starvation yesterday at One Hundred and Twenty-first Street and Second Avenue. He had fallen against a lamp post and to the sidewalk.
